

THE TROOPS ARE COMING

Third Battalion, Fourth Infantry, Will Camp Here Thursday.

Soldiers Nearing Brookville Today—Lieut. Waterman Here Today.

The citizens of Rushville are expected to decorate their homes and business houses Thursday and make other arrangements for the welcome of Uncle Sam's soldier boys, who will pass through our city on that day.

Lieut. J. C. Waterman, of Company I, Fourth United States Regular Infantry, the regiment, part of which is to march through this city from Ft. Thomas, Ky., to Indianapolis, where it is to participate in the army maneuvers, rode into the city, on a beautiful bay charger this morning and stopped for the day. He will remain at the Windsor hotel until tomorrow morning.

Lieut. Waterman is riding in advance of the troops, making the camping arrangements and looking after other matters essential to the comfort of the soldiers while on the march. He wore a brown khaki uniform today and attracted considerable attention as he walked about the streets with Congressman Watson, arranging for the soldiers' visit to Rushville.

"Our Command left Fort Thomas, Saturday evening," said Lieut. Waterman, this morning, "and camped Saturday night at Cheviot, O., six miles out of Cincinnati. The command consists of the Third battalion of the Fourth Infantry, with the band, headquarters, hospital and signal corps and nine commissary wagons. The battalion is composed of Companies I, K, L, and N., and the entire command numbers about two hundred men. We left fifteen percent. of the command to guard the post.

"The troops are traveling in heavy marching order and are fully equipped for field work. The men are sleeping in 'dog' tents and each man is carrying about forty-five pounds. Each man has ten days rations. The command is making from twelve to fifteen miles per day. This is considered a good day's march for soldiers that have not been hardened to it for some time.

"The command is expected to reach Brookville today. It will remain there until tomorrow morning. The next stop will be on the Milton Senior farm, near Metamora. Wednesday morning the troops will march to the Laforge farm near Andersonville, where they will remain over night. The command will arrive in Rushville between 10 and 12 o'clock Thursday morning, coming in over the New Salem pike. It will then march to the grounds west of the L. E. & W. Depot where sinks will be dug and a camp established. We have forty-five head of horses with us and they will be properly stabled. At daylight, Friday morning, the command will break camp and march to Morristown. The next camp will probably be established at Blue River park. All soldiers, off duty, will be allowed to come to your city while the command is in camp."

The Third battalion is in command of Major John F. Tillson, the soldier who distinguished himself by his bravery in the march of the Powers upon Peking, China, in 1899, and who afterwards became provost marshal of Peking immediately after its occupation. Major Tillson at that time, was with the Fifth Infantry.

The Fourth Infantry is one of the oldest regiments in the regular army. It saw service in the War of 1812, in the Mexican war, in the Civil war, among the Indians, during the '70's, in Cuba, and in the Philippines. About a year ago it returned from four years' service in the last named islands. Its ranks, as fast as they have thinned, have been recruited and the gallant Fourth has made more great soldiers perhaps than any other regiment in the army. It is the regiment in which General Grant first enlisted. The Third Battalion was in the thick of the fight at San Juan hill, during the Spanish-American war.

Its men are veterans in the true sense of the word. In their service they have been around the world, having gone to the Philippines via the Suez Canal and having returned via San Francisco. The command was widely scattered during its stay in the Philippines, but it participated in many of the brushes with the natives in the various provinces. Most of the command did garrison duty in the Cavite and Alibi provinces.

The battalion will have no drills while it is in camp here, with the exception of roll call and retreat. The regimental band will not play, as its instruments have been packed away.

TO MAKE A DECENT CITY

Terre Haute's New Mayor Issues Orders For Law Enforcement.

The Reign of Vice With Which the City Has Been Disgraced is at an end.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 9.—Mayor Buckingham's board of safety met and agreed on Nicholas Feller, chief of detectives, as temporary superintendent of police. Mr. Feller was asked to accept the place but declined, and only promised to serve until another man could be appointed.

The first order of the board was for the strict enforcement of the laws governing saloons. It was also ordered that disorderly women should keep off the streets and that names of women should be removed from above doors in the red light district; that no lights be permitted above doors and no liquor be sold in the houses. The members of the police department were instructed to see that the order was observed and that all gambling was stopped and all paraphernalia destroyed.

Mayor Buckingham and Controller Boggs started the city wheels again and cleared up a great amount of business which had been permitted to accumulate pending the settlement of the situation growing out of the impeachment of Mayor Bidaman.

Mr. Bidaman has not taken any steps to take the matter into court, and it is believed that he will not seek to regain the office. As a result of the order issued by the new board of safety, Terre Haute experienced the quietest Sunday known in years. Until late in the afternoon the streets were comparatively deserted. The enforcement of the Nicholson law was complete. All entrances to saloons in the downtown districts were locked. Screens were removed and a full view of the interiors was to be had. Only one arrest was made for violation of the liquor law yesterday and not a single one on Saturday night.

COW NEARLY KILLED A WALDRON BOY Was Dragged Sixty Rods and Then Cow Turned to Gore Him to Death.

Harry Quate, fourteen-year-old son of Cyrus Quate, of near Waldron, started Saturday morning to lead a milk cow to a meadow by a long rope, and intended to tether the cow.

He had not gone far when the cow became unruly and the lad wrapped the rope partially around his body and arm to more easily hold her. However, this little bit of thoughtlessness came near causing the lad's death, for a moment later when the cow started to run, Harry was unable to loosen his arm from the rope.

The cow dashed down the road and Harry soon lost his footing. He was dragged by the angry cow for a distance of more than sixty rods and the speed of the beast was finally checked by Harry's body coming in contact with a telephone pole. The cow was suddenly turned and seeing the bleeding boy on the ground, with lowered head started toward him evidently with the intention of goring him to death.

Luckily the lad's parents had seen the accident and hastened to his assistance, reaching his body just as the angry cow went dashing by. When she turned and started toward the prostrate form again she was beaten over the head with rails and driven away.

In an unconscious and seemingly lifeless condition Harry was carried to the house, where he lay hovering between life and death for several hours before he was revived by the physician who was called.

Even late Sunday evening the lad was in a precarious condition and the physician in attendance would give but little encouragement to the watching parents.

INDIANA CAN BOAST

Old Hoosier State is the Center of About all That is Good.

Indiana enjoys the distinction of being the center of population and center of agriculture, the center of commerce, the center of modern literature, the center of the great American railway system—having more miles of railroad to the square mile of territory than any other State in the union—of having the best natural gas supply, of increasing more rapidly in manufacturing industries, of owning more property to the man than is owned by any other State, of having a larger percentage of church membership and richer school fund than any other commonwealth; also the percentage of scholarship is better than any other State.

It has more cattle to the acre, more bushels of wheat, more money in bank, more pianos in parlors and more diplomas in frames than can be located elsewhere from sea to sea.

LIBERTY HAVING A HARD STRUGGLE

To Secure the Traction Line—$3,500 Subscribed in Large Sums—$10,000 Needed

The Liberty Herald earnestly appeals to the people to subscribe the money to secure the right-of-way for the I. & O. traction line. It says, in part:

"We must secure this road or it will be twenty-five years before we do get one. Contemplate what will become of Liberty in a business way with this road running to the West and South of us and the C. C. & L. to the East. And then if we get the Henry line, we are sure of the Dayton road and possibly others. But we will not get any at all if the I. & O. cuts us out."

One bank gives $800, the other $500. The Bertsch firm, $500; Jas. Covington, $500; Rude Bros., $500, and Clinton Gardner, $300, leaving $6,500 yet to be announced.

POLICEMAN ON HUNT OF SUPPOSED BURGLAR

About 10:30 o'clock Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Horr notified Policeman Pea that burglars were evidently robbing Clark's mill, on West Third street, as they had seen a stranger man leave the mill with a sack of flour. The policeman investigated and then started on the hunt of the supposed thief. The man was finally located at the Pennsylvania depot. He proved to have only a pair of shoes in a grain sack.

VALUABLE RACE HORSE SUDDENLY TAKEN SICK

Croesus Strong, a valuable trotting stallion belonging to J. F. McKee, of Cleveland, O., with a mark of 2:08 1/4, and in training with Harrie Jones' string at Riverside Park, was taken dangerously ill Saturday afternoon. Mr. Jones called Dr. Todd and wired the owner of the horse who came here Sunday with Dr. Newcomb, the celebrated Toledo, O., veterinarian. Dr. Todd, however, had the horse out of danger. Dr. Newcomb returned to Cleveland today. The horse is said to be valued at $15,000.

IS THE WORLD IMPROVING?

Rev. W. W. Sniff Says Conditions Indicate World is Morally Bad.

At the Same Time Some Conditions Show World is Getting Better.

Rev. W. W. Sniff, in a sermon Sunday night at the Main Street Christian church, on the subject, "Is the World Growing Better," impressed his auditors with the fact that it is to be conceded that there are a great many conditions in the present day that seem to indicate that the world's moral condition is not improving. Illustrative of this, Rev. Sniff called attention to greed for money and the grasping disposition exercised in present day business methods, the corruption in public office and the apparent spirit of lawlessness that prevails.

"The people nowadays," said Rev. Sniff, "are living rapidly and the age has developed into one of independence of restraint. This has been apparent, particularly in the disregard of the civil and criminal laws of the country. The trouble is that the law lacks majesty in the minds of the people.

"This discouraging view of the world grows out of a superficial knowledge of facts. For instance there have always prevailed these conditions to a greater or less degree, but the greater publicity given to these things in the present day and the raising of the world's ideals have directed unusual attention to these conditions. And the very fact that we see them as we do is a sign that there has been an improvement in public sentiment."

Taking up the argument on the affirmative side of his subject, Rev. Sniff contended that the elevation of woman to her proper place in society, the recognition of her rights in holding property and the protection that the law gives her in every way—which is a very late recognition—proves that woman is now superior to man in those conditions in which she has been placed before and likewise proves that the world is getting better.

"The unfortunate classes of society," the speaker declared, "are better cared for today. They are looked after more systematically and wisely. An instance of this is shown in what has been done in the cities through the abolition of tenement houses, and the establishment of public parks, playgrounds and free public baths."

Rev. Sniff emphasized especially the general increase in the spirit of charity and the establishment of systematic public charity, and called attention to the fact that in 1893, $29,000,000 was given to charity, while in 1903, $107,000,000 was devoted to charity. New York City, alone, he said, pays out $50,000,000 for charity annually.

"The ready response that the civilized world gives to people stricken in disaster," the minister said, "shows largely increased kindness in the hearts of men." In this connection, Rev. Sniff mentioned the San Francisco earthquake and fire and the Galveston flood and other disasters, especially famines that visited India and Japan. The increased kindness, Rev. Sniff said, was unquestionable proof that the world is growing better.

The minister closed his sermon by calling attention to the improvement and purification of literature in the present day and showed how the deeper knowledge of things, together with this improvement in mind, through better literature, is likewise proof that the world is growing better.

SMALL WRECK ON THE TRACTION LINE

The I. & O. express car jumped a switch at New Palestine at 4:45 Saturday evening and tied up the service in that locality for about an hour.

WANTS DOG HEADS

State Board is Looking After Canines That Have the Hydrophobia

Rushville has in past summers had numerous mad dog scares and frequently animals have been killed which were believed to be suffering from genuine rabies.

The State board of health is preparing to pay special attention this summer to supposed cases of hydrophobia. Dr. Helene Knabe, assistant State bacteriologist, has just returned from a visit to Eastern laboratories, where she made some special study under expert chemists. Dr. Knabe saw some of the best known specialists in the country at work on the heads of dogs that were supposed to have had rabies.

The theory in treating hydrophobia is first to examine the head of the dog that is supposed to be afflicted. The State board invites people who know of animals suspected of having rabies to kill the animals and send in the heads.

RUNAWAY BOYS CAUGHT HERE

Kenneth McFall and Erden George are Returned to Connersville.

About two o'clock Saturday afternoon Policeman Pea saw five boys climb out of a freight car on a west bound C. H. & D. train upon its arrival in this city, and among them recognized Kenneth McFall and Erden George, two Connersville youths, for whom the policemen were notified July 1st to be on the look out, as they had run away from home. Policeman Pea collared them and they were held until the arrival of Officer Jordan, of Connersville, who took them home on the 7:39 east bound passenger. The boys said they had been in Cincinnati.

FIGHT FOR PURE MILK

Circular Letter Issued Which Outlines Statutes Provisions.

Many Cases of Sickness are Caused by the Use of Impure Milk.

As president of the Indiana State Health Board, Dr. I. Henry Davis, of Richmond, has sent out circular letters to authorities of every city and town in the State, urging the importance of looking after the purity of the milk supply. The circular in part says:

"The diarrhoeas and most of the intestinal disorders from which people suffer in the summer time are caused by food poisons. These poisons, called toxins, are elaborated by ferments, which grow luxuriantly in hot weather. Most ferments (microbes) produce harmless compounds in foods.

For instance, the lactic ferment produces lactic acid in milk. Lactic acid is not harmful to health, but, on the contrary, as found in butter-milk, it is wholesome. It is the toxin producing ferments we must fear. The seeds of such ferments are everywhere, but especially where uncleanliness exists. A simple experiment will illustrate.

Place a loaf of chicken salad, which are made of the best material in the most cleanly way, in dirty refrigerator and let them stay there two or three days. They will become poisonous nine times out of ten and will cause intestinal pains, vomiting and diarrhoea in nearly every one who eats them. Milk collected in an uncleanly manner and not immediately cooled becomes poisonous. Milk containing a small amount of toxins will rarely make adults sick, but an infant may be killed by it, and hundreds of infants are annually killed in Indiana by dirty milk.

The majority of cases of cholera infantum are caused by milk poisons, and so are most of the infantile diarrhoeas. From these facts it is apparent that the "summer complaints" are not mysterious visitations of Providence, but are the result of our ignorance or of our neglect to be practical and to apply to everyday life the facts discovered by science. It is not enough for science to discover truths, it is for the people individually or through public authorities to make them practical by using them. Therefore the State Board of Health appeals to all city and town governing authorities to take the very sensible and economic step of regulating the milk supply of their respective cities and towns to the end that sickness and death caused by dirty milk may be prevented.

The State Board of Health is prepared to analyze milk, water, foods, drugs, etc., free of charge.

The dairy in which milk intended for sale is placed and kept must be a separate and special apartment used solely as a dairy. Such dairy shall be at least twenty feet from any stable or pig-stye or any refuse heap.

It is forbidden to deliver consumers milk over twenty-four hours old, except in the case of milk which, within eight hours after milking in summer and twelve hours in winter, has been sterilized at 220 degrees Fahrenheit.

It is forbidden to take out of the milkman's establishment:

1—Any skim milk, even if only partly skimmed, unless it be contained in cans, jars or bottles bearing the inscription "skim milk," in letters not less than an inch in height.

2—Any milk to which any foreign substance has been added, especially those called "preservatives."

3—Any milk not containing at least 3.6 per cent. of butter and 9 per cent. of other solid elements, or having a proportion of water exceeding 88 per cent.

4—Any milk whose smell or flavor betrays any fecal contamination, and the milk shall be delivered to the consumers in the same condition as it was when it left the milkman's establishment, unless the change in the condition of the milk consists solely in its pasteurization or sterilization by heat in an intermediate establishment between the producer and the consumer, the installation and operation thereof having been found suitable by the health authorities of the place where the milk is consumed.

RUSHVILLE, IND., JULY 9, 1906.

Cincinnati and vicinity is greatly disturbed at the news from Oyster Bay that President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft had agreed on a plan for mobilizing the army at seven large posts, which would mean the abolishment of Ft. Thomas for military purposes. It is the idea to carry out the program at once, but final action will not be taken until the President and Secretary have had another conference. Ft. Thomas is too good an attraction for Cincinnati to give up without a struggle.

"The congress that has just closed has done more substantial work for good than any congress for years. The legislation has been along the lines of real constructive statesmanship. Not a single measure of doubtful propriety has been enacted. No influence of any kind has availed to prevent the enactment of the laws most vitally necessary to the nation at this time." Such is the unqualified endorsement of the work of congress by no less a personage and authority than Theodore Roosevelt. The endorsement is honest. It is deserved.

Over the whole country there is a contented and a more satisfied feeling. The truth is, we got just what we were asking for—just what we wanted—and more and better legislation than we expected. The congress which recently adjourned had a Republican majority of more than one hundred. We were told that this large majority was unwieldy. We were told by our Democratic statesmen and newspapers that special interests were in control, that the voice of the people did not reach the ears of Republicans at Washington. We were assured that the rate bill and pure food bill and other measures we favored never would become laws because of opposing corporate interests.

We couldn't believe all that; still we knew from old that congress is conservative, and sensibly so. Now, despite Democratic petitions to the contrary and Democratic opposition to every one of these bills in committees, on the floor and in the voting, the overwhelming Republican congress passed the laws the people wanted and the measures the country needed, and a Republican president has signed them, and the whole country now gives that party the same measure of credit for its splendid achievements that it would of blame had it failed in its duty. It will receive the renewed confidence of the people because it deserves it.

THE CENTER OF INTEREST

Political Paths Lead Straight Into North Meridian Street These Days.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 9.—Vice President Fairbanks, who has returned to Indianapolis to spend a quiet vacation, will soon be in thorough touch with the political situation in Indiana, even if he doesn't set foot outside of his North Meridian street home, as party workers are calling on him to pay their respects and, incidentally, to tell him what they know. The vice president is a fine listener and is noted throughout his own state for "getting next" to what is going on without saying much about his own plans or opinions. It is likely that within the next few weeks he will receive many politicians at his home and will get all the information he needs regarding Indiana politics. His lieutenants seem to have things in good shape in this state, as there is no evidence of breakers ahead for them. From what they say the vice president's boom is not to be pushed this summer as vigorously as had been planned before Bryan loomed up so strong as the Democratic candidate. They say that the situation has changed and that they believe that it will be advisable to let well enough alone for the present.

President Perkins of the State Federation of Labor, said today that there will be no labor candidates for congress in Indiana this campaign. The labor leaders are still talking about the necessity of electing their own representatives to congress, but it is believed that they see the futility of trying it in this state. Perkins said that Wellman Lackey of Sullivan county is still a prospective candidate for congress in the Second district, but he does not believe he will run. He would stand no show of election under present conditions. Perkins declared that a majority of the union men of the district are satisfied with Cyrus E. Davis of Bloomfield, the Democratic candidate, although the Republicans are trying to stir up trouble for him among the miners because he owns some stock in a mine. The Republicans are playing up Davis as a big operator when, in fact, it is said that he is only a minority stockholder in one mine. Perkins asserted, however, that the miners never had a better friend in the Indiana legislature than Davis, who helped them in every way possible. In all the legislative "blue books" issued during the past six years giving the record of the members of the general assemblies, Davis has been declared to be one of labor's best friends. On this account Perkins and other leaders in the State Federation are now trying to smooth the way for him in his race against Congressman Chaney. That there will not be a labor candidate in the Twelfth was also predicted by Perkins, who said that the talk of putting an independent ticket in the field is dying out. The movement to bring out labor candidates in the Fifth, Seventh and Eighth districts has also been abandoned. Perkins would like to make the race on the Democratic ticket here. He feels that he could overcome the Republican majority, but he said that the Democratic leaders are not anxious to place his name on the ticket. He declared, however, that there is a spirit of unrest and dissatisfaction among the laboring classes and that the nomination of one of their representatives would strengthen the Democratic party in its campaign here this year. Among the local Democrats there is a movement to nominate Meredith Nicholson, a popular Indiana author, for congress, and it is said that he is not averse to making a race. It would not be surprising if he should be nominated.

The local Democrats will nominate their county ticket next Saturday. The convention promises to provide considerable excitement, although the Republicans have had an overwhelming majority for several years. Ex-Judge Theodore P. Davis, who was elected county chairman a few weeks ago, is making a great effort to harmonize the Taggart and Keach-Holtzman factions and is said to be meeting with considerable success. The Democrats are in a more hopeful frame of mind here than they have been for several years, and many of them are beginning to believe they can win. They figure that the normal Republican majority here is less than 4,000, which might be overcome with a good organization and strong ticket. The intense feeling between the rival factions has practically put the party out of the running for the last six or eight years, but with both pulling together Chairman Davis believes there is a chance for victory.

The annual session of the state board of tax commissioners will begin Tuesday and will continue until the middle of September. An unusual feature is that all of the members except John Wingate were appointed by Governor Hanly. Auditor Bigler was appointed to succeed Dave Sherrick, who is now in prison. Fred Sims was appointed secretary of state to succeed Dan Storms, who was forced to resign. Parks M. Martin, the Democratic member, is a Hanly-appointed member. John Billheimer, secretary of the board, was continued at the governor's request.

An Interesting Spectacle.

Shanghai, July 9.—An unprecedented and interesting spectacle was witnessed here Sunday when 4,000 Chinese volunteers who have been drilling assiduously for the past few months, paraded through the flag-decked streets of the settlement. The men were dressed in khaki and presented a smart appearance. Only the officers wore swords. After the parade the soldiers were entertained at the yamen of the taotal.

Greenfield, Ind., July 9.—Willie, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Eaks, northeast of Greenfield, was instantly killed by being struck in the head by an iron pulley to which a hayfork was attached. The pulley was attached to the floor with a chain, and in pulling up a large bunch of hay the chain broke. The pulley struck the lad and crushed his skull.

Mr. Wilson Will Start Things Going.

Chicago, July 9.—The plans for putting into effect the new federal meat inspection law will be discussed in Chicago this week by Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture and superintendents of inspection from various packing-house centers. The secretary may visit other cities to look into the methods to be pursued in enforcing the new law.

IN A DEAD LOCK

Commissioners to Draft a New Russian Land Law Having Hard Time.

THE FIRST PARAGRAPH

Of the Proposed Agrarian Law Has Been Accepted and There the Commission Is Stalled

Grave Disorders Arising Out of the Peasant Discontent Reported From Many Places.

St. Petersburg, July 9.—The first paragraph of the proposed agrarian law, viz., the augmentation of the lands of the peasants by the expropriation of all state and crown domains and church and monastery lands, has been accepted by the commission of the lower house with practical unanimity. The commissioners have now locked horns over the mode of expropriation and the method of disposal of private estates, and the end is not yet in sight.

The determination to expropriate church lands which in distinction to the great estates owned by the monasteries, lie scattered like the lands of the common schools in America in small tracts throughout the country and support the local clergy, will cause complications. Such action would deprive the parish priests of the principal part of their scanty emoluments and necessitate an equivalent from some other source.

The drought in the provinces of Samara and Saratov is finally broken, but the rains have come too late to save the crops and help the peasants, who are in a pitiable condition. Their cattle have either been sold or are starving in the fields. The government relief granaries were completely emptied during the last year's famine. The present agrarian disorders, which can be expected to grow worse, are due largely to the necessity of the peasants seizing food and forage to preserve their lives and save from starvation the remainder of their cattle. These disorders have reached the highest pitch in the province of Voronezh, where the troops and Cossacks, although in considerable force, are practically helpless and on the defensive. Many peasants have been killed or wounded in desperate attacks on the military patrols and the rural guards.

According to a telegram received here from Tambov peasants on the estate of Princess Bariatsky attacked a commissary and a posse of rural police. The commissary and four policemen were seriously wounded. In another section of the province of Tambov a body of peasants, armed with pitchforks and spades, resisted a squadron of dragoons. Because of this resistance the troops fired, killing three peasants and wounding many others. At Kedabey, southeast of Tiflis, a hand-to-hand fight has occurred between Cossacks and an armed band of peasants, with the result that several men were killed on both sides.

There has been a fatal encounter at Krassnopolsk in the province of Podolia between rich peasants and poor peasants. The poor men were incensed because the rich men had sent a telegram to the lower house protesting against the proposed distribution of land. In the fighting one of the wealthy peasants killed four and seriously wounded several of the poorer men.

In St. Petersburg a thousand workmen have met and passed a resolution opposing the agrarian program of the group of toll in the lower house. They declare that fearful consequences would ensue if this program became effective, and urge the members of the group to recognize their error and co-operate with the Social Democrats and the Laborites.

There have been grave disorders on the state of Minister of Agriculture Stchinsky in Tula province. The representative of the Associated Press at Rostov reports that the crop conditions in the Kuban and Don districts are above the average. Agrarian disorders among the Cossack agricultural population are not expected, although there has been some ferment among the military levies over having to do police duty.

Lone Highwayman Holds Up Five Stagecoaches.

Wawona, Cal., July 9.—Five Yosemite valley stages were held up Sunday by a lone highwayman, who obtained a considerable amount of money and jewelry. The conveyances were halted in rapid succession at a curve in the road near Ahwanee at the identical spot where a lone bandit operating a year ago relieved several wealthy tourists of their valuables. The stages were traveling sufficiently far apart to avoid each other's dust, and when the first vehicle reached the turn in the road the highwayman, whose features were completely hidden by a duster thrown over his head, stepped out, pointed a gun at the driver and commanded him to halt. Some of the women passengers screamed, but others began wildly to secret their valuables. The highwayman directed all passengers to throw out their money and jewelry, and when the order met with compliance, directed the driver to move on. The second stage arrived within a few minutes after the first and the driver and passengers suffered a similar experience. The process was repeated until all five had been halted and robbed, when the bandit disappeared in the brush.

CASSIUS C. HADLEY,

One of Indiana's Strong Lawyers, Candidate for Judge of Appellate Court.

Cassius C. Hadley of Indianapolis, who is one of the two candidates for Appellate Judge from the First, or Southern, district, is recognized as one of the strongest lawyers of the state. He was born in Hendricks county, and attended Butler College and DePauw University, graduating from the law department of the latter institution in 1886.

Since that time he has been actively engaged in the practice of law in Hendricks and Marion counties, except about two years spent in practice in the West. Mr. Hadley has been

CASSIUS C. HADLEY.

Assistant Attorney General for over seven years, during the terms of W. L. Taylor and Charles W. Miller. In this position he has met in legal battles the strongest talent procurable, and has won many signal victories for the state of Indiana, not the least of which was the keenly contested case of the State vs. ex-Auditor Sherrick, and the mortgage deduction law case, which he briefed and argued in the United States Supreme Court, and obtained a decision sustaining the law. It is conceded that he will add dignity and ability to the Appellate Court. He is strongly endorsed by lawyers who know his accomplishments and his ability.

"Mr. Hadley was with me for nearly four years as one of my assistants," says Mr. Taylor, "and during that time labored without limit of time or energy, conscientiously and with marked ability in the work of the office. I consider him one of the best lawyers in Indiana and especially fitted, both naturally and by experience, for a position on the Appellate bench."

Mr. Miller adds his endorsement by saying: "Cassius C. Hadley has been my chief assistant for more than three years. He is a man of splendid legal ability. His work has always been well done. He is fortunate in possessing a fine judicial mind, but he is still more fortunate in the reputation he has so well attained as a man of unquestioned character and integrity. He is particularly well qualified for the bench."

When applied and covered with a hot cloth Pinesolve acts like a poultice. Best for burns, bruises, boils, eczema, skin diseases, etc. Sold by Lytle's Drug Store.

Do the merchants who advertise all of the time that they will sell you goods "below cost" really mean it? Of course not. How could they and keep it up? Its not arithmetic. But you can understand, can you not, how that at this season of the year when summer business is nearly over that a legitimate store may wish to close out many lines they have bought too many of. Many merchants buy job lots and poorly made goods to spring on the people at this time of the year but look out for these fake sales. We would rather do without business than to give our patrons poor stuff. We are here to stay. So even at prices we confess are reduced and let us out about even we have left lots of "clothes of quality" at these prices: Suits $5.00 to $15.00, Pants, $1.00 to $5.00.
